SONGS OF PRAISE

What a friend we have in Jesus all our sins and griefs to bear! What a privilege to carry ev'rything to God in prayer!

O what peace we often forfeit, O what needless pain we bear, all because we do not carry ev'rything to God in prayer!

Hymns Old & New No. 541

oseph M. Scriven 1820-86

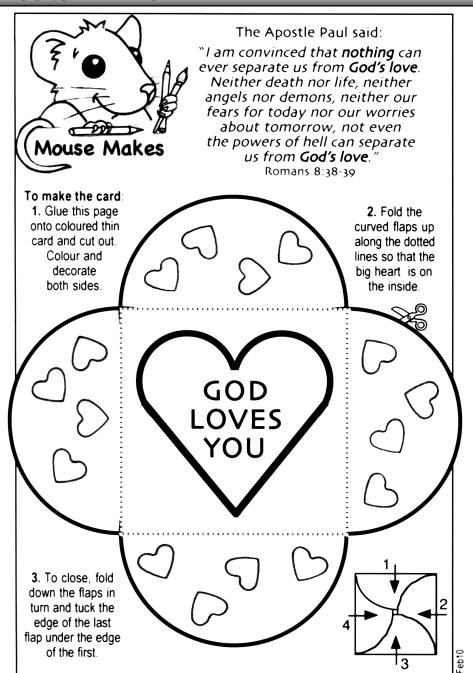

Joseph Medlicott Scriven was born in Dublin, and was a graduate of Trinity College. His early hopes for a military career were dashed by ill-health, from which he suffered throughout his life. At the age of twenty-five he was engaged to be married when his fiancée fell from her horse and was drowned the evening before their wedding. Scriven emigrated to Canada and settled at Rice Lake, and then at Port Hope, Ontario. He earned his living as a tutor, and spent his spare time as a lay preacher with the Plymouth Brethren, and working among the poor and destitute.

In 1859 he and Eliza Roche became engaged, when he was 39 and she was 22. She was baptized by full immersion in Rice Lake with the ice barely gone. Eliza, who was already ill with consumption, developed pneumonia, weakened over a four-month period and died in 1860.

Scriven became a familiar sight around Port Hope, a big man with bushy white hair and full white beard, carrying a 'buck and a bucksaw', offering to cut wood for anyone who was unable to cut his own or pay someone to do it for him, although he refuse payment. He used to preach wherever he found people gathered, in the country or on the street corners, sometimes to their express annoyance. Pelting with fruits and vegetables did not stop him and arrest didn't deter him. Shortly before he died Scriven told a friend that the verses of this hymn, which had been published anonymously, were by him and that he had written them to comfort his mother back home in Ireland 'at a time of particular sorrow'.

In the third verse, instead of 'Do thy friends despise, forsake thee?', it originally read 'Has thy brother, sister grieved thee?' The tune CONVERSE is the work of Charles Converse (1832-1918), who was friendly with Liszt. This hymn was parodied during the First World War, a version of which was used powerfully in the later film, Oh What a Lovely War!

YOUNG READERS

COLD COMFORT

Some younger people may speak of the winter of 1985; for others (of my vintage) it will be the winter of 1963. For older people there will be nothing to compare with the winter of 1947, when the snow fell in January and lasted until March! The very oldest people may be able to speak from experience of the winter in 1917, or the worse one in 1909. To that list the children of today will certainly be able to add 'that winter of 2010' when Dedham was, with the rest of the country, caught in the grip of a true Northern latitude winter.

Writing this on the coldest day of the year, so far, with the scene from my window more like Norway than North Essex, it may be that by the time you read these words it will all be a memory, or the dedicated people who deliver the Parish Magazine to every home in this village may have had to battle through snowdrifts to do so. If the latter, then let me add my thanks to yours for their efforts. The elderly who may have been forced to stay indoors will be grateful for your brief contact and God's voice speaks for the news you bring. It is good that we have this in marvellous ways... R.D. Blackmore set his story informal scheme for visiting $He \ says \ to \ the \ snow$ every home regularly, and 'fall on the earth'.

as a consequence we could raise a neighbourly alarm if concerned.

However hard this winter, it will have to go some way to beat the one John Evelyn recorded in his Diary:

'The frost continuing more and more severe, the Thames before London was still planted with booths in formal streets, all sorts of trades and shops furnished and full of commodities, even to a printing press....coaches plied from Westminster to the Temple... as in the streets, sleds, sliding with skates, a bull baiting, horse and coach races, puppet plays...so that it seemed to be a...carnival on the water...[yet] it was a severe judgement on the land, the trees not only splitting as if lightning-struck, but men and cattle perishing in diverse > places and the very seas so locked up with ice that no vessels could stir out or come in. The fowls, fish and birds and all our exotic plants and greens, universally perishing... London by reason of the excessive coldness of the air hindering the ascent of the smoke, was so filled with the...steam of sea coal, that hardly could one see across the streets and...one could scarcely breathe. Here was no water to be had from the pipes and engines, nor could the brewers and...other tradesmen work, and every moment was full of disastrous accidents.'

DUSTBUSTERS

The church caretaker, Andrew Hodson, does his best each day but it needs extra help to the time, dates venue and topics of the make sure the church looks its best for classes with you. These classes will our services of worship and to welcome visitors.

Would you have an hour or two to spare on the last Thursday of each month, between 10 a.m. and 12 noon, to take part in a 'communal clean'? There would be no heavy work, although maybe just a little bending (good for the waistline), to pick up the hassocks so that a good sweep can take place under the pews and a thorough dusting of all the surfaces. Coffee and biscuits (not so good for the waistline) will be served and we hope that you will find the time spent will be a congenial and satisfying experience. Many hands make light work!

If you are able to help, please leave your name and telephone number on the sheet at the back of the church. The group will meet first on Thursday 28 January, and continue monthly until the internal building works have been completed.

BIG BREAKFAST

Bringing warmth to a cold morning, the annual post-Christmas relapse from dietary good intentions was another great success. The Assembly Rooms was once again the setting for a superb standard of hospitality and welcome. Thanks are due to the committed team of volunteer-helpers and to the great number of regulars and first-timers who supported the event. In addition to the amount raised for church funds, the raffle raised £440 which has been paid into the Disaster Emergency Committee appeal for the Haiti disaster. Thank you!

GOING FOR A SONG

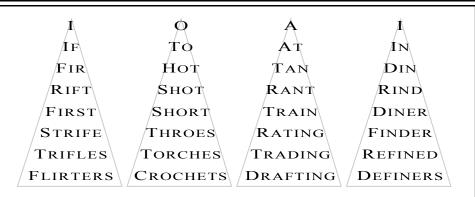

The Church Choir have for several years agreed to donate the money they would have spent on Christmas cards and stamps to one another to a charity. This year they added £330 to the Haiti disaster appeal. What a great initiative!

CHRISTMAS PRIZE QUIZ - ANSWERS

CHRISTMAS TREE WORD PUZZLES

The challenge was to:

- I. enlarge the word on top of the 'tree', one letter at a time,
- 2. rearranging the same letters so as to create a word with all the letters of the previous, shorter word
- 3. until it becomes, with one further letter added, the word at the bottom of the 'tree'
- 4. then add a word to any one of the four at the bottom of a tree, following the rules above, to make one nine-letter word.

Some nine-letter words using the rules above: FILTERERS / CROTCHETS OR RICOCHETS / DRAFTINGS OF INGRAFTED / BEFRIENDS

THE WINNER

Such is the richness of the English language that each of the correctly completed entries received had used a different sequence of words to get to the required result. Among those who completed the puzzle successfully, the names of the usual 'School Lane Masterminds' (i.e. Lambert, Marshall and Turner) were all in the 'Vicar's Hat' for the final draw, but it was Frank Beavis, a pupil in Year 6 at Dedham C.E. Primary School, who was the eventual winner. Congratulations! He was one of several pupils encouraged by Headmistress, Mrs. Tetchner, to take part, but he was the only one to submit a completed entry. He will soon be receiving his £25 voucher for the Dedham Gourmet or Dedham Bookshop (as he chooses). Although he is the first winner of our annual competition to still be a school pupil, we hope that he will not be the last!

VILLAGE PUMP

THE GARDENING DOCTOR

Do you suffer from plumbago? Is your back a little sore? Or perhaps it's pyracanthus which you caught in Singapore? You've a nasty little hosta which I think you'll have to lance, And I notice a spiraea has been leading you a dance. Are you getting forgetful? Is nemesia the cause? Does your antirrhinum pain you when you're walking out of doors? You've had skimmia rubella, I can see that by your nose And cornia capitosa has played havoc with your toes! How is your viburnum tinus? Have you lost your sense of smell? Use a syringa reflexa that should keep it clear and well. I'm afraid your macrocarpus isn't really up to scratch, And do avoid nigella - it's a nasty thing to catch! Still I think you're doing nicely; watch the quercus in in your knees, Take your berberis twice nightly. Next patient please!

TWO KINDS OF PEOPLE

When it comes down to it, people may be seen as belonging to one of only two types and, perhaps surprisingly, that is not male and female. The first type are those who wake up in the morning and say, "Good morning, Lord!" Then there are the second type - who wake up and say, "Good Lord! It's morning!

DEDHAM - EMBU LINK

This year the Diocese of Chelmsford is celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of its link with the Kenyan dioceses of Embu, Kirinyaga, Mbeere and Meru (collectively known as the Kenyan Dioceses of Mount Kenya East) that encircle Mount Kenya, 100 miles north east of Nairobi.

We are excited that our Primary School has been invited to form links with the Gatunduri Primary School, in the Diocese of Embu. This month Headmistress, Heather Tetchner, and I. as the Parish Church's Director of Music, will be visiting Kenya, where we will spend a week in the Kenyan school, getting to know the staff and pupils.

Once this local link is established. there will be a variety of funds/grants that will be available in the future to help maintain it. However, this first trip is to be funded entirely by Dedham's school and church communities. We invite you, therefore, to support this project, which will enable children both of Tower Tours. PARISH PLAN

For people living and working in Dedham to have a greater say in the future of our community, Dedham Parish Council has started the process to create a Parish Plan. A steering group of local people has been established to manage the process and will follow the community-led planning guidelines set out by Government and promoted by the Rural Community Council of Essex.

The Plan process will encourage the whole community to identify local needs and solutions. The process will take place over eighteen months, involving all sections of the community and covering all matters that affect the quality of life in our area. The process will result in Action Plans which will not only specify and prioritise the local needs identified, but will also propose ways in which to address them. Action Plans will include those that the community can take forward itself, as well as those that need external support to achieve. The Plan will not seek to directly address planning and development aspects as these were well covered by the Village Design Statement.

The first stage of the consultation process will be a public workshop, to be held in April, to commence the identification of local needs. This will be followed by a comprehensive questionnaire involving the entire community. The key areas to be addressed will then be identified and action plans proposed as to how these needs can be met. Finally, a report will be published and processes set in place to ensure those action plans get progressed.

Please do look out for announcements about the Parish Plan as your participation is critical to its success. You will also be able to follow progress of the Plan on our website:

www.dedhamparishplan.org.uk

NEXT MEETING

The next meeting of the Parish Council will be at 7.30 p.m. on Wednesday 10 February in the Assembly Rooms. Police Inspector Jason Bloom will attend to talk about dealing with anti-social behaviour.

PAST TIMES

Ten Years Ago February 2000

DEM' BONES The following item was included and is as true today as it was a decade ago: 'The membership of any organisation can be said to be made up of four sets of bones. There are the wishbones - who spend all their time wishing someone else would do the work. Along with them are the jawbones - who do all the talking about the work and very little else. Another group is the knucklebones - who knock everything that anybody else tries to do. But most valuable are the backbones - who get under the load and actually do the work.'

Fifty Years Ago February 1960

- ♦ RE-DECORATION AND RE-LIGHTING 'Messrs. Campbell Smith, of London, have presented to us their proposals for redecorating the church and these proposals will very soon be considered by the P.C.C. As soon as a decision has been reached a faculty will be sought and the work put in hand. I also believe that it will not be long before the new lighting will be installed. This obviously must come first and the decorating afterwards.'
- ♦ HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY The Vicar wrote 'I went to the recent inaugural meeting of the Dedham Horticultural Society. They have produced an interesting and imaginative programme. There is to be a Spring Show and I hope that their enthusiasm will be rewarded.'

A Century Ago February 1910

- ♦ CANADIAN ARCHDEACON VISITS DEDHAM Archdeacon Lloyd of Saskatchewan gave a lantern lecture in the Memorial Hall.
- ♦ HEALTH & SAFETY? 'The cinematograph that had been arranged...[for the Sunday Schools Christmas Entertainment] had to be abandoned at the last moment, on account of the new regulations that came into force at the beginning of the year...and there was not time to comply with them...Mr. Artis [a professional photographer, whose shop was next to the Vicarage] very nobly came to the rescue...and the children experienced no disappointment.'

Dedham Church & Street - winter scene - a century ago

This undated postcard pre-dates the introduction of pavements to the High Street. Some boys are standing by road works, possibly the laying of a sewer (electricity was not introduced to the village until the early 1930s). Close inspection reveals a cantilevered portico on the front of the Master Weaver's House (see detail, left, taken from another photo). Seen from the other direction, the detail of 'The Sun Hotel' and its neighbouring shop front can be seen to have changed.
